

User Stories

A student at UNCC looking for a job.

A new student trying to figure out which classes will help them get the skills they need for a new job.

A student struggling with interviews being helped out.

A student is looking to network with employers in their field.